THE HORNET

All About Time

To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven:

Ecclesiastes 3:1

At Morris College, we take time to remember...

*A time to enter
and a time
to learn....*

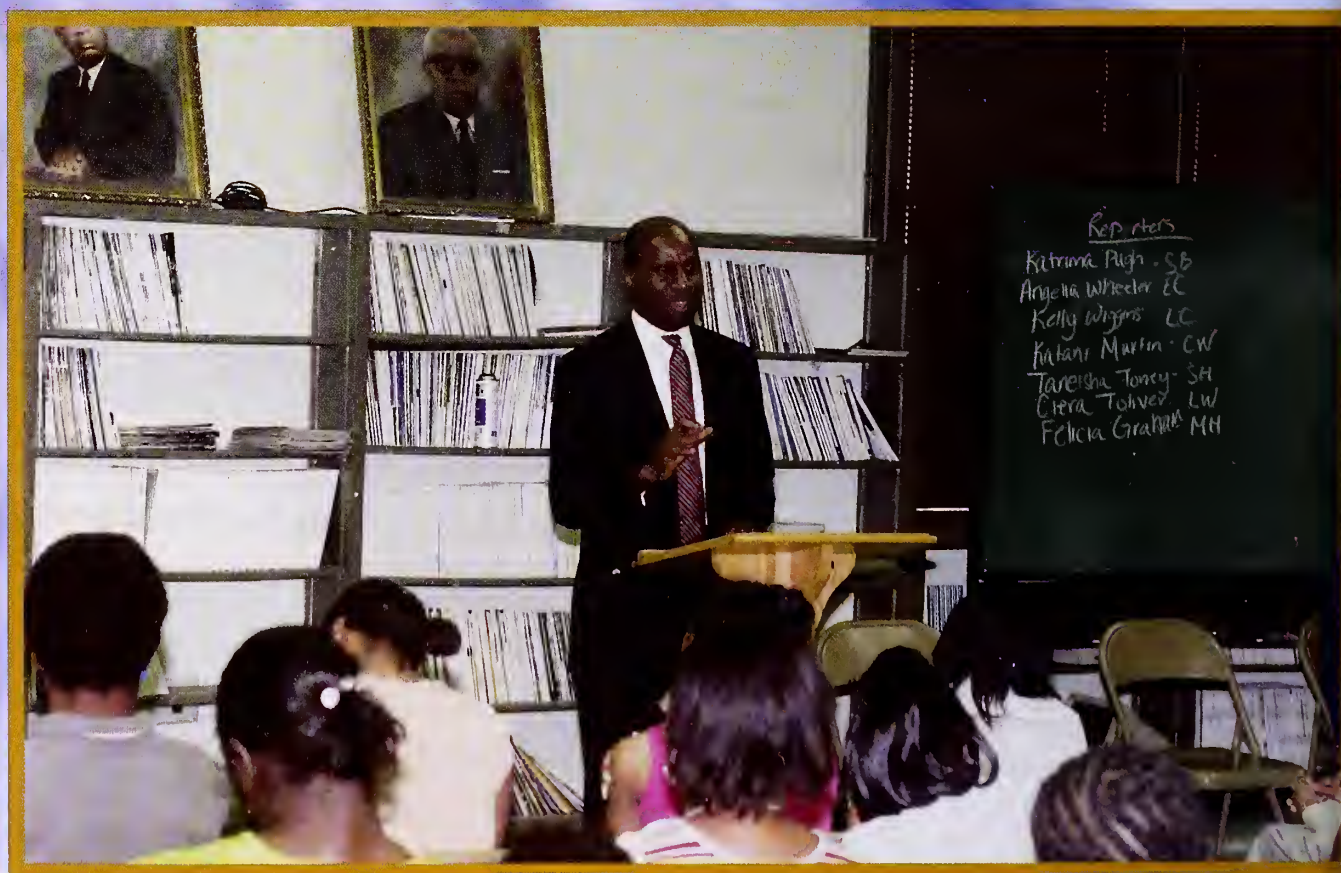

*A time to depart
and a time to serve*

*A time to

and a time to aquire knowledge.

A time to test old theories...

new answers.*

A time to come together...

and a time to be alone.

*A time to listen
speak...*

A time to make lasting friendships.

*A time to
work...*

*and a time
to play.*

A time for beauty and pageantry.

*A time to sing
and a time
to dance.*

ACTIVITIES 2003-2004

Record Enrollment

The 1007 students enrolled during the 2004 fall semester comprised the second highest enrollment ever in the institution's 96-year history. Last fall, 1049 students set a new enrollment record.

A report by the Office of Admissions and Records showed 381 men and 626 women from 21 states, the District of Columbia and one foreign country.

President Richardson now in his 30th year at Morris

President Luns C. Richardson, now in his 30th year at Morris College, spoke at the Opening Convocation of the 2003-2004 academic year and reaffirmed the institution's commitment to attain excellence and keep alive the mission of the founders to help people help themselves.

Dr. Richardson is the longest serving chief executive officer of any college or university in South Carolina. Since becoming Morris' president in 1974, he has completely transformed the college.

Ernest A. Finney, Jr.

State Senator Maggie Glover
Democrat, Florence

NAACP panel features two noted Black leaders

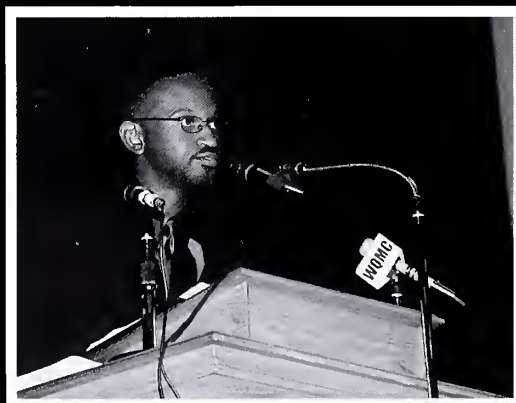

Two of the state's noted African-American leaders appeared on a program sponsored by the Morris College NAACP Chapter in the celebration of the 50th anniversary of historic 1954 U.S. Supreme Court decision which outlawed segregation in public schools.

State Sen. Maggie Glover of Florence, the featured speaker, was introduced by Retired Chief Justice Ernest A. Finney, Jr. of the South Carolina Supreme Court.

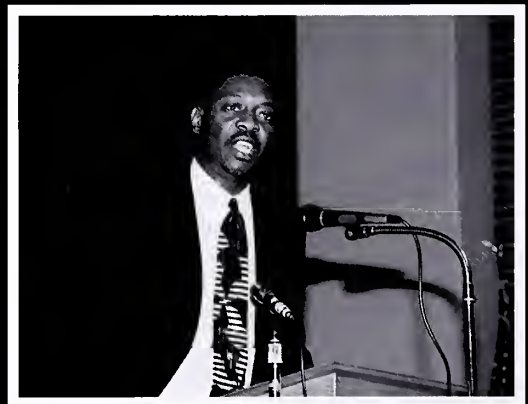

Others were Mr. Marvin Scarborough, President of the Sumter Branch NAACP Chapter; Mr. Aaron Brown, President of Morris' NAACP Chapter; and Dr. Jacob Butler, Jr., Chairperson of the Division of Social Sciences.

Honors Students are Recognized

At the 2004 Fall Honors Convocation, Morris College recognized 141 students for academic achievements during the 2003 spring semester. Included were 12 students named on the President's List with perfect 4.0 grade point averages, and 129 on the Dean's list with gpa's of 3.0-3.5 Dr. Leroy Stagger, Academic Dean, was featured speaker.

Ninety-eight Morris College students, including five with straight "A" averages of 4.0, were recognized at the 2004 Springs Honors Convocation for excelling academically during the 2003 fall semester. Featured speaker was Dr. Reginald A. Bess, Chairperson of the Division of General Studies.

Rev. Sharpton huddles with admirers following a speech in Neal-Jones Auditorium.

Sen. John Edwards poses with Brandon McGoogan of Winnsboro, Freshman Class President.

Presidential Candidates hold rallies on campus

Rev. Al Sharpton of New York and Senator John Edwards of North Carolina, Democrats seeking their Party's 2004 Presidential nomination, made campaign stops at Morris College.

Sen. Edwards spoke to a crowd of approximately 150 at an afternoon meeting November 19 during a tour of South Carolina colleges to register students to vote in the state's presidential primary on February 2, 2004.

Anji Dial, junior broadcast media major from Greenville, chats with Rev. Sharpton, a noted civil rights leader.

Many Morris students responded to Rev. Sharpton's voter registration campaign.

Freddie Cole's Combo presents mini-concert

Freddie Cole, brother of the late great Nat "King" Cole, brought his four-man combo to Morris College and played several popular and jazz numbers at a morning musical workshop. The group warmly applauded.

Cole was featured as pianist/singer and was accompanied by a bassist, guitarist and drummer. That same evening, they appeared in concert at Patriot's Hall in Sumter.

Drum/Dance Company gives exciting program

BORENYA, a Drum and Dance Company, entertained and educated a Morris audience on the culture, music and dance of West Africa.

Music-lovers from the campus and Sumter community were enthralled by the performances of the highly trained percussionists and beautiful dancers.

West African dances combined movements of many parts of the body, and there were frequent rhythmic dialogues between the dancers and the drummers.

Entertainers focus on history of Black music

During African American History Month, a group of New York entertainers received raves from Morrisites while presenting "Historical Soul," a musical program celebrating African American contributions to American culture.

This rollicking musical adventure featured jazz, rhythm and blues, and rock and roll.

ROTC Cadets receive training training

Since its inception, Hornet Company Army ROTC at Morris College has produced nearly 50 officers who are serving with units in the U.S. and at installations abroad.

ROTC students are in a non-obligation program for two years. In the junior and senior years, as participants in the Advanced Program, they attend a five week Basic Camp offered each summer at Fort Knox, KY. They also participate in a regular program of physical fitness and field training.

Student fundraisers win campus titles

Each year several young women and men from the senior, junior, sophomore and freshman classes at Morris compete as fundraisers in the campus campaign which benefits the United Negro College Fund. The three top fundraisers are rewarded with coveted campus titles.

Latasha Edmonds, senior English major from Columbia, was top female fundraiser and won the "Miss Homecoming" title.

Shelawn Graves, senior English major from Little Rock, came in second among women and won the "Miss Coed" title.

Leondrus Wright, senior political science major from N. Charleston, was top male fundraiser and won the "Mr. Coed" title.

Three get awards for papers on Dr. King

Three students drew heavy applause for their excellent performances in presenting reaction papers on famous speeches by Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Speaking at the college's celebration of the 75th birthday of the slain civil rights leader were Veronica Montgomery, junior political science major from Ft. Lauderdale, FL; Brice Dixon, sophomore elementary education major from Bishopville; and Ashley Maxwell, sophomore elementary education major from Orangeburg.

Each speaker received a plaque, a new book of poetry by Morris alumna Frances Singleton, and a $100 check.

Homecoming Step Show

The Greek Step Show has a long and lively tradition at Morris and other historically Black colleges and universities.

Members of fraternities and sororities sparked the large Homecoming crowd with their perfected routines at Sumter Exposition Center.

In addition to stomping their feet, the performers showed inexhaustible vitality while slapping parts of their bodies and clapping their hands for rhythm.

New Addition to Daniels Dining Hall

Morris College used a $600,000 grant from the South Carolina Lottery Commission to erect a new addition to Daniel Dining Hall, increasing the seating capacity from 250 to 500.. The College spent another $100,000 for new furnishings and equipment in the renovated building.
